Applications to the Building Safety Regulator

From 1 October 2023, any Building Control application in England that covers a higher-risk building should be submitted to the Building Safety Regulator, instead of a Local Authority or a registered Building Control Approver.

During the design and construction phases, a higher-risk building has at least 7 storeys or is at least 18 metres in height and either:

- is a hospital or care home.
- has at least 2 residential units.

In such cases, you should not complete this form. Instead, please view the guidance on GOV.UK about preparing and making an application: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/managing-building-control-approval-applications-for-higher-risk-buildings>
